Dear Rich,

Although I usually fall asleep during the second hour, I have greatly appreciated your input, responses, guests, and interviews on There is Hope. You have opened my eyes to the scope of the needs, metrics, and strategies in the Puget Sound area.

You are very articulate — may I say, you have a wonderful voice and way of expressing yourself — and come across as wise, gracious, and generous. These qualities, plus the relevant content, have kept me trying to stay awake to listen after having gotten up early for work. I don't want to miss what your show has to offer. I really wish you could be on earlier!

Whatever happens w/rt the radio show, I'm asking and I wish you: our Lord is best.

Thank you for There is Hope!

Good Christmas to you and your wife,
Mary

P.S. I'm praying you can stay on the air.

Testimonials of those who have been helped through There is Hope Radio

I was driving down the road very hopeless and depressed. I was ready to quit on life. I turned on the radio and had to pull over to the side of the road. Your show gave me hope. What is amazing is the next day I went to a church I had never gone to before and the radio host of There is Hope was at the church.

After listening to the testimony of one of your guests I realized that I was an alcoholic and I went into outpatient treatment and moved into your clean & sober house.

I am struggling with a 25-year addiction to pain killers. I listen to There is Hope every week because it gives me hope that some day I can be set free. I want to help There is Hope help others to never get addicted to pain killers.

I listen to your show every single week. I want to call in sometimes but I am afraid that I will miss some of the show. I have to admit I am 'addicted' to There is Hope.

I have never used drugs or alcohol. I tuned into your show by accident and found myself not wanting to turn off the radio because I was learning so much about what it is like to be addicted. This helps me understand more about my brother who is an alcoholic.

As I listen to the testimonials of those who have been set free from addictions I have hope that some day my son will be able to overcome his addiction. Please pray for him.

Because of your show I am now attending Community of Hope. It is so nice to find a church service that focuses on addiction and recovery. This is helping me to work on my dysfunctional behavior.

I gave up chewing tobacco that was costing me $16 a week listening to your program.
